

Red Crossbill Project Field Guide

Feel free to take this guide with you on outdoor activities.

Common Name: Red Crossbill

Scientific Name: Loxia curvirostra

Description: The Red Crossbill is a medium sized finch species. The distinguishing field mark for this species is its dark bill with crossed tips.

Males

Males have a red/orange body with a bright red rump, dark brown wings and a notched tail

Females

Females have an olive green body with a yellow/orange crown and rump, grey/brown wings and tail

Juveniles

Juveniles are primarily grey/brown overall and have heavily streaked chest

Male

Female

Juvenile

Common Name: Red Squirrel

Scientific Name: Tamiasciurus hudsonicus

Description: The Red Squirrel is a small squirrel species with reddish to reddish grey fur on top and a white/cream underside.

General appearance

